PASSION & CARE

Far from what is considered the norm in this sector, Ego Bodegas is not the culmination of a rich tradition inherited by its owners, nor was it the result of a burning desire to develop the marvelous vineyards or a mission to learn about the amazing world of wine.

Instead, it was born out of its partners' passion and effort, what people call "talent" – the name of their first wine – who are united and committed, personally and professionally.

Santos Ortiz, of Spanish origin, and Ioana Paunescu from Romania, started from scratch in 2011, "con palcos y canicas" as they say in the region. This means that they were short of financial resources, but had an extraordinary talent for creating wines and coordinating financial, marketing and sales department.

"We launched a Project doing the opposite to what the books tell you or what you see in the industry. From TOP TO BOTTOM, we built the winery from the roof down, and not from the ground up, with one clear objective: SALES AND PROFITABILITY, targets which, when achieved, would guarantee the future of the Company".
